At the heart of all Meditation traditions, they describe a state beyond ordinary waking experience

Mantra based Automatic Self- Transcending Techniques transcend the thinking and feeling processes to reveal a non-dual state of pure self-awareness—a state of "Being" rather than "Thinking" or "Doing". This state is called pure consciousness or No Mind.

In the Advalta Vedantic (Non-Dual) tradition a "mantra" is used as a device to easily guide the mind to quieter states of awareness. The cycle of thinking and returning to the mantra requires no concentration or force.

This process of moving the mind inward without any effort is called Automatic Self Transcending and it utilizes the specific sound value of the "mantra" to draw attention inward and permit the mind to experience a restful but alert state of consciousness or Pure Awareness (No Mind) and as a byproduct helps the body rest & heal deeply.

How do I know if my mediation practice is a Mantra based Auto Self Transcending Technique?
